

MEDICATION AIDE CERTIFICATION (MA-C) PROGRAM

TAKE YOUR CAREER TO THE NEXT LEVEL

The Ohio Board of Nursing approved Medication Aide Certification (MA-C) course prepares students to administer medications in nursing centers across the state of Ohio. The course includes a combination of in-classroom learning as well as on-site clinical training and is taught by a seasoned RN Clinical Instructor that brings 34 years of long-term care experience to the classroom.

Administering medication to senior residents is one of the most important pieces of care in a nursing home, and the process is time-consuming. Med Aides can focus on this task, which frees up nurses to do the most important parts of their job and allows for better quality care all-around.
